RCIA (RITE OF CHRISTIAN INITIATION OF ADULTS)

The Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (RCIA) will be beginning to meet this summer on Thursday, June 18. Our RCIA group for our three parishes is for any non-Catholic adult who is interested in becoming Catholic or learning more about the faith. Our summer meetings will take place every two weeks with weekly meetings beginning in August. If you or someone you know would be interested in more information or would like to sign up, please contact Fr. Scott at frscottperry@delphosstjohns.org or visit or call the Ministry Center at 419-695-4050.

PLEASE SIGN UP

Due to this pandemic, Eucharistic Ministers, greeters and servers WILL NOT BE PRE-ASSIGNED in Ministry Scheduler Pro. If you are willing to volunteer at a Mass, you will need to sign in to Ministry Scheduler Pro. Once you log in, click the Full Schedules tab at the top of the page. Scroll to the Mass you desire and click VOLUNTEER NOW. You will be added to the schedule. If you have any difficulties logging in, you can contact Kim Honigford at honigford@delphosstjohns.org. If you have Ministry Scheduler Pro as an app on your phone, you may have to delete it and then reinstall it. Ministry Scheduler Pro has made some updates and people have had problems getting it to load correctly. Once they reinstalled the app, they were able to see the schedule.

OUR PARISH

A SEMINARIAN'S TAKE

What are deacons?

Oftentimes in our world today, the question “What is it?” is tantamount to the question, “What does it do?” If I were to ask, “What is a car?”, someone might describe what it does; “It’s a thing that takes you from place to place.” In the case of the car, that answer does a good job getting to the heart of what a car is. But if I were to ask, “What is a mom?”, then the answer to this question demands much more than just what a mom does. You can think of many examples of when “what-a-thing-does” never completely demonstrates “what-a-thing-is.” That’s because persons are never reduced to use; or, identity is always more than utility.

Now let’s ask the question about deacons; what are deacons? Well, we could begin by saying what deacons do. Deacons minister and assist the priest at the altar during Mass, they proclaim the Gospel, they preach on occasion, they are able to administer the Sacrament of Baptism and Matrimony, they can give many blessings, and a few other things. These are all things that a deacon does, and so they form a part to the answer of our question. But in order to really know what a deacon is, we’d also need to recall that identity is always more than utility. So, who is a deacon?

Saint Polycarp was a bishop in the Church who was born about 40 years after Jesus rose from the dead, and he himself was martyred in the year 156 (about 120 years after Jesus rose from the dead). Saint Polycarp once said that deacons should “be merciful, diligent, walking according to the truth of the Lord, who became the servant of all.” Here, Saint Polycarp was using the word deacon and servant in a beautiful way. Deacon in Greek is diakonos; servant in Greek is the same word, diakonos. In a real way, a deacon is a servant because he is configured to Christ the Servant, who became the servant of all. Through the laying on of the bishop’s hands and by the invocation of the Holy Spirit, a man is configured to Christ Himself and is given a character on his soul that cannot be removed. The deacon, then, is an ordained man who has been consecrated by God and configured to Christ through the Sacrament of Holy Orders so that he can serve the Church. He is set apart for the ministry of the Word of God by serving the Gospel and preaching, for the ministry of charity by serving the poor and outcast, and for the ministry of the Altar by serving for the Body and Blood of Christ.

Next weekend, on June 19th at 7:00 p.m., I will be ordained into this incredible ministry of the diaconate. Because of the current pandemic, attendance to the ordination will be limited and reserved for invite-only. But, I would ask that you please pray for me at the Mass and in the Rosary as I approach this amazing sacrament. And if you would like to virtually attend the Ordination Mass, this would bring me great joy as well. You can find it at toledopriesthood.org.

By being ordained to the Order of Deacon, and configured to Christ the Servant, I will be made a cleric in the Church in continued preparation for ordination to the priesthood. After ordination, I will return to our parishes and remain for the rest of the summer! I am so greatly looking forward to serving you by being configured to Christ the Servant of all.

DIOCESE

LEADING THE FLOCK

“Statement of Bishop Daniel E. Thomas on the Death of George Floyd and the Resulting Aftermath”

“I can’t breathe.” The harrowing plea of George Floyd as he was violently robbed of his life, now seared into our minds, hearts and souls; and the chanting of that phrase in protests, many tragically marked by violence and vandalism, are a stark reminder that hatred, racism and injustice are alive and well. Attacks on human life cannot be tolerated because each human life has inherent dignity and all human life is sacred. The right to life is the first and most fundamental principle of human rights that leads us actively to work for a greater respect for human life and a greater commitment to justice and peace.

United with Catholics throughout the Diocese of Toledo and together with all people of good will, we denounce in the strongest terms immoral actions which are the poison fruit of racism; and we denounce immoral actions which are born of hatred and result in unbridled violence. “Love compels each of us to resist racism courageously. It requires us to reach out generously to the victims of this evil, to assist the conversion needed in those who still harbor racism, and to begin to change policies and structures that allow racism to persist” Open Wide Our Hearts: The Enduring Call To Love, A Pastoral Letter Against Racism (USCCB, Nov 2018, p. 18).

While it might be easy to denounce racism and violence in a written statement, in a catchphrase on a poster, or in a political call for systemic change; it is far from easy to stop and examine where they have their roots: in one’s own heart, thoughts, intentions, speech and attitudes. It is never easy for anyone to identify any sin or vice and work courageously to eradicate it, never easy to work to replace it with goodness and virtue. Only such an examination leads to a “genuine conversion of heart, a conversion that will compel change, and the reform of our institutions and society” (p. 7). Only personal ongoing conversion from evil and sin can lead to the healing so desperately needed today.

Pope Francis exhorts us: “My friends, we cannot tolerate or turn a blind eye to racism and exclusion in any form and yet claim to defend the sacredness of every human life. At the same time, we have to recognize that the violence of recent nights is self-destructive and self-defeating. Nothing is gained by violence and so much is lost...let us implore the national reconciliation and peace for which we yearn.”

As we pledge our prayers for the repose of George Floyd, for all who have lost their lives, and for their grieving loved ones, we pray together for our broken and wounded nation. Most of all do we pray that every person so disturbed and outraged by the events of these last days will work to promote and protect that peace and justice which is the right of all citizens, no matter their race. We cannot condone the brutality of some in law enforcement which led to the horrific death of George Floyd; we cannot condone the violence of some protesters which brutalizes and ruins the livelihoods of ordinary citizens. “If one member of the body suffers, all suffer together” (1Cor 12:26). In this moment we are all suffering, united in particular with the suffering African American community. In this moment, we cannot lose sight of George Floyd’s struggle to breathe, nor be deaf to the “I can’t breathe” of the countless voices of those for whom there is no one to speak. Nor can we be blind to those who try to manipulate this moment of suffering to promote an agenda of hatred and foment division to pit us one against the other.

As members of the human race, in this moment, it feels difficult to breathe. The violence we have all witnessed has left us breathless. We look forward to that day when, moved by the Holy Spirit, the Breath of God, we can stand united as one human family in a society moving toward hope and healing. We look forward to that day when the harrowing plea “I can’t breathe” has been transformed into a full throated “I can breathe freely!”, where each human person can breathe deeply of the pure air of mercy, love, harmony, peace, justice, understanding and respect for each human person!

HABITAT FOR HUMANITY

Due to the generosity of many donors, we are in serious need of more volunteers to help process items that have come into the Habitat ReStore. While we are not currently using any volunteers in the high risk category for COVID-19, we do need help from others. You can volunteer anytime between 9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m. Tuesday through Friday or 9:00 a.m.-3:00 p.m. on Saturday. (The current store hours are only 10:00 a.m.-3:00 p.m. Thursday & Friday and 10:00 a.m.-2:00 p.m. on Saturday.) So, you may feel better coming when there are no customers and we would welcome that. We are also open to having small groups come in during the evening, perhaps a Sunday School class or family. That would provide an even safer environment. Contact us at mark@habitatlima.org or by phone, (419) 222-4937 if you can help in any way. And, please share this with others. Again, our overall concern is for your safety. So, please volunteer only if you feel safe to do so. We do have state safety protocols in place.
